Marbledworks is a German design studio, founded by Maximilian Huber and Dominic Kim. We redefine stonemasonry, challenging conventional typologies. Our mindset reflects our identity, how we understand and meet the world around us. Our commitment to quality is unwavering. Our holistic philosophy stands apart – one that speaks through the serene language of intellectual sophistication, adopt geometric abstraction, enabled by using artisanal methods, cutting-edge manufacturing, and processing.

HEX

HEX is not merely an object; it is a space-creating component. From its composition to its design, it heralds a new haptic universe that transcends functionality. A fusion of high-quality materials and German craftsmanship offers a contemporary industrial aesthetic with hexagonal profiles and soft stone tops. This modular table range features an aluminum frame seamlessly integrated, ensuring easy assembly and modification. The design facilitates flat-pack delivery and adhesive-free maintenance.
